By ED MORSE AP Business News Writer NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market tried to rally Tuesday after six straight sessions of decline but late profit taking trimmed away most of the moderate advance.

Table of Pacific Coast Exchange stock prices with columns: Share, High, Low, Close, Net.

The list had to be credited with a day on the upside, however. Gainers outnumbered losers by 480 to 462, of the 1,207 issues traded.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .10 to 218.10 with the industrials unchanged, the rails down .30 and the utilities up .20.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials declined 1.22 to 624.78, putting this indicator further down the ladder from a "support level" chartists have been talking about.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was unchanged.

THE SHORT-LIVED advance was ascribed to technical factors by brokers. The international atmosphere remained tense, with Russia and the United States continuing to exchange harsh words over Cuba, but this was not given much weight by steel observers.

Steeles, some chemicals and other industrials contributed to the rally while it lasted but late selling erased all except a token advance.

A 2-point decline by Du Pont dropped this stock below the 200 level and down to 199 3/4, its lowest price since Aug. 4, 1948, when it sold at 197 1/4.

Technicalians have been watching this blue chip and its performance Tuesday was far from cheering. The company reported a new high in sales but a decline in earnings.

Volume stepped up a bit to 2,490,000 shares from Monday's 2,350,000. New highs for the year total 23 and new lows 60.
